e. Special categories of personal data (these categories are considered more sensitive):

- information related to health or disabilities;
- Veteran status; date of birth, age, gender;
- for all roles, we ask you to cooperate with drug testing, carried out by a service provider on our behalf;
- racial and ethnic origin information, where this is disclosed by immigration and naturalization records.

We use this information for the purposes of:

- considering if we need to provide appropriate adjustments during the recruitment process and to ascertain your fitness to work; and to comply with any legal or regulatory obligation, including employment and immigration law.

Our legal reasons for using this information are:

- compliance with duties under employment, social security and social protection law (Article 9(2)(b), GDPR);
- purposes of preventative or occupational medicine, for the assessment of your working capacity, medical diagnosis or provision of health care Article 9(2)(h), GDPR);
- legal or other professional advice including in relation to legal disputes in relation to you or others, or to make or defend such claims (Article 9(2)(f), GDPR); or
- we have obtained your explicit consent to collect in accordance with applicable EU or local law (Article 9(2)(a), GDPR).

Where we base our use of your information on our legitimate interests, we will have assessed that those interests are not overridden by your interests or rights which require protection of your data.

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

We do not foresee that we will take any decisions about you during the recruitment process using automated means. However we will inform you if this position changes, for example, if we require your to take a psychometric test, and then you will be entitled to contest the decision.

In some circumstances we may anonymize your personal information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you.

Consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection and processing of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time.

To withdraw your consent, please contact us at peopledepartment@endeavorair.com. The withdrawal of your consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on the consent before its withdrawal at any time.
Information that we share

We will share your personal information with companies, organizations, and individuals outside of Endeavor where one of the following circumstances applies:

- for recruitment administration and management, subject to us taking reasonable measures to ensure that your information is kept secure at all times;
- to trusted third parties businesses, or persons who perform services and process your personal information for us for the purposes listed above, based on our instructions (including, in particular, background check or drug-test providers), subject to us taking reasonable measures to ensure that your information is kept secure at all times;
- to Endeavor's auditors, consultants, and other professional advisers for purposes of their providing us with their professional services;
- to security agencies and competent authorities, companies, organizations, or individuals outside Endeavor if we have a belief in good faith that access, use, preservation, or disclosure of the information is reasonably necessary to:
  - meet any applicable law, regulation, legal process, or enforceable governmental request;
  - investigate potential violations;
  - detect, prevent or otherwise address fraud or security issues; or
  - protect against harm to the rights, property, or safety of Delta, our customers or the public, as required or permitted by law.

Retention of your information

We will keep your information:

- for the duration of the recruitment process and for the length of any applicable limitation period for claims which might be brought against us later. If you are successful in applying for a position, your personal information will be retained for a further period, as set out within our Employee Notification; or
- otherwise in accordance with Endeavor's Records Management Policy and Records Retention Schedule.

Transferring any personal information outside the EU

The information we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored, outside the European Economic Area (EEA) to Delta or its third party suppliers in the United States and other countries where Delta or its Affiliates have offices.

Countries outside the EEA may have a lower standard of protection for personal information than that required by EU data protection laws. If we need to transfer your data to a country outside the EEA which does not demonstrate an adequate level of protection under EU law, we take steps to make sure your personal data is handled in line with EU law and the transferee applies appropriate safeguards. If you would like to obtain the details of such safeguards, you can request these from the Data Protection Officer.
Your rights

You have a number of rights in relation to our handling of your data. These include the following:

- Access: you are entitled to ask us if we are processing your information and, if we are, you can request access to your personal information (commonly known as a "data subject access request").
- Correction: you are entitled to request that any incomplete or inaccurate personal information we hold about you is corrected.
- Erasure: you are entitled to ask us to delete or remove personal information. There are circumstances where we may refuse a request for erasure, for example, where the personal data is required for compliance with law or in connection with claims.
- Restriction: you are entitled to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal information about you.
- Transfer or portability: you may request the transfer of your personal information to another party.
- Objection: where we are processing your personal information based on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) you may object to processing on this ground. However we may be entitled to continue processing your information based on our legitimate interests. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes.
- Automated decisions: you may contest any automated decision made about you where this has a legal or similar significant effect and ask for it to be reconsidered.

If you want to exercise any of these rights, please contact the Data Protection Office in writing as indicated above.

Complaints: You also have a right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State in the European Union where you are habitually resident, where you work, or where an alleged infringement of Data Protection law has taken place.

Changes to this notice

This notice will be changed from time to time. This Recruitment Notification is not a contract and does not create any contractual rights or obligations.
